

Summer School of Slavonic Studies

University of West Bohemia in Pilsen

July 8 – July 28, 2023

The University of West Bohemia in Pilsen is organizing the 33rd International Summer Language School, which takes place 10 – 28 July 2023. The Summer School of Slavonic Languages (SSSL) is an important part of this traditional educational programme.

The SSSL offers all-day three-week Czech courses focused on general language. Participants can choose from four different language levels (A1-B2). All teachers are qualified professionals, who enjoy using informal methods of instruction. The language classes are complemented by an accompanying programme of sightseeing tours, workshops, sporting events and parties, during which participants can practise and enjoy their newly acquired language skills.
